The John Deere Classic crowned perhaps its most prominent champion ever when Vijay Singh recorded a 4-shot victory against one of the best fields in tournament history. The No. 2-rated player in the world behind Tiger Woods at the time, Singh sealed his victory with birdies on three of the last five holes. The victory was Singh's third of four for 2003 and for the first time vaulted him into first place in the race for the TOUR's leading money winner – a race he eventually won. The event concluded on Monday due to weather issues earlier in the tournament.
