Former and future PGA Championship winner Dave Stockton charged from five shots behind with a 7-under par 64 in the last of four tournaments played at Crow Valley Country Club in Bettendorf, Iowa. Bruce Fleisher arrived at the 18th hole on Sunday, looking at an eagle putt to win. He three-putted instead. Sam Snead, age 63, narrowly missed shooting his age with a Friday 65 and shared the lead after three rounds. He finished fourth. The 1974 event is the first of 16 played directly opposite the British Open.
