The first tournament played at the Tournament Players Club Deere Run also became the first John Deere Classic to extend beyond Sunday. Upwards of 140,000 golf fans came to Deere Run from Wednesday through Sunday. On Monday morning, 27 golfers and 4,200 fans came back to see the completion of Sunday's suspended final round. Michael Clark II, who was up by a shot with eight holes to play when Sunday play was suspended, ended a four-hole playoff vs. Kirk Triplett with an 18th hole birdie on his third Monday morning turn at the finishing hole. The 14th first-time Tour winner of the Q-C tourney, Clark subsequently was named 2000 PGA Tour Rookie of the Year.
